BRAYES FIELD, BOSTON, Oct. 12.—The Red Sox took to-day's game, the fourth of the series, from the Phillies. They need only one more victory to clinch the world's title.

FIRST INNING.—Shore missed the plate with his first shot, but made good with two clean strikes in succession. Stocks landed on the next one and drove it over for a clean single, but in trying for a two-bagger Lewis's quick recovery of the ball and throw to Barry nailed him at second. Shore lost control on Bancroft and gave him a base on balls. Shore pitched a wide one to Paskert and Joe Wood and Carl Mays were sent out to warm up. Shore pitched himself in a hole, and when the count stood two and three Bancroft struck second, but is not credited with a stolen base officially as Barry dropped a clean throw and was charged with an error. Paskert went after a slow curve and struck out. Shore pitched a wild one which almost hit Cravath on the head, and the slugger, evidently scared, missed a curve by a foot. Another swing and he struck out. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, ONE ERROR, ONE LEFT.

Chalmers also missed the plate in his first time out, and then put a fast one over for a strike. He again

FINAL INNINGS.

LAST HALF OF FIFTH.

Cady smashed a long single into centre. In attempting to bunt, Shore struck out. Hooper's long fly was easy for Paskert. Paskert also caught Scott's long fly, retiring the side. NO

Niehoff got Speaker's grounder and put him out at first. Hoblitzel singled into centre for his second hit of the day. Lewis cracked a terrific liner against the left field fence for two bases, scoring Hoblitzel. And practically breaking up the game, Gardner fled out to Paskert. Chalmers threw out Barry. ONE RUN, TWO HITS, NO ERRORS, ONE LEFT.

SEVENTH INNING.—Scott threw out Burns. Chalmers drove a single into left center, giving the Phils a new life. Scott got Stock's grounder and threw to Barry, forcing out Chalmers. Barry attempted a double play, but threw wild to first. Stock started for second, but Hoblitzel recovered the ball and threw to Barry, catching Stock at second. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS, ONE LEFT.

Cady struck out. Shore also fanned. Stock made a great play in throwing out Hooper. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NONE LEFT.

EIGHTH INNING.—Bancroft filed to Lewis. Chalmers drove a single to Paskert. Paskert popped out to Gardner. Cravath banged a long drive that hit the ground in deep centre and bounced over Speaker's head for three bases. Luderus followed with a clean smash over second for a single, scoring Cravath. Duguey ran for Luderus. Duguey stole second. Shore threw out Whitiff. ONE RUN, TWO HITS, NO ERRORS, ONE LEFT.

Scott threw out Scott. Speaker bounced a hit off Stock's shin.

In the hit and run play Speaker went to third on Hoblitzel's line single to right.

Lewis walked. Gardner's grounder to Chalmers took Burns and Speaker was forced. Burns then threw out Gardner at first. NO RUNS, TWO HITS, NO ERRORS.

NINTH INNING.—Gardner threw out Niehoff.

Byrne batted for Chalmers and fled to Scott.

Burns pop flew to Scott. NO HITS, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

GIVE SECOND DOSE OF LIFE-SAVER TO ANTHRAX VICTIM

Judge Stackpole Was Sinking Fast, but Expert Declares He Will Recover.

IS FIRST HUMAN TEST.

Health Officials Search at Riverhead for Source of Dread Infection.

A second injection of anthrax serum was administered this afternoon to Judge George F. Stackpole, who is fighting for his life against anthrax in Bellevue Hospital. This injection was of twenty-five cubic centimetres and was made in the patient's neck, the seat of the disease. It was done when Judge Stackpole was thought by Dr. H. M. Silver and Dr. A. G. Terrell, Health Officer of Riverhead, L. I., the Judge's home, to be sinking to death. The patient's temperature had risen to 103 degrees and his breathing had become so labored and uncertain that it seemed he could not last very long.

Immediately the Judge's wife, son and daughter were sent for and gathered at his bedside. He tried his best to talk with them, but could only mutter a few scarcely intelligible words.

While the serum was being prepared for injection John D. Henderson, secretary to Dr. Elchorn of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Agricultural Department, who discovered the efficacious qualities of the serum, said:

"I will wager ten to one in any amount that Judge Stackpole survives. The second injection of the serum will be victorious. Twenty-four hours are required to give the serum its proper test and the first injection was administered only last night. I have noted the same sinking in animals suffering from anthrax and they have responded, just as the Judge will, to a second injection."

Dr. George F. O'Hanlon, Superintendent of Bellevue Hospital; Dr. Robert T. Wadham, visiting surgeon of the hospital; Dr. Henry E. Dwyer, head of the isolation ward in which Judge Stackpole is a patient, and Dr. H. M. Silver, Mr. Stackpole's family physician and college mate, had a consultation after careful observation of the patient this morning.

MIGHT HAVE SAVED LIFE OF ANOTHER MAN.

"My great regret," said Dr. Wadham, "is that we were late in learning of this serum. If we had known of it a week ago we might have saved the life of Joseph Miller, who died of anthrax here. I never heard of the serum. In my medical experience I have observed six cases of anthrax. All of them were fatal." "The whole medical world," said Dr. O'Hanlon, "awaits the outcome of this case. We have before used animal vaccines, toxins and serums on the human body, but this is the first time an animal serum has been used to counteract anthrax. Heretofore it has been regarded as swiftly and inevitably fatal. There are a few instances where it has been reported as cured, but there are grave doubts as to whether the disease in those cases was really anthrax."

Judge Stackpole, propped up in bed, was as cheery as his swollen throat would let him be early this morning and apparently as comfortable as though he were well and going about as usual.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kahn, One of the Season's Debutantes

$24,000,000 GIFT FROM FATHER NEWS TO ROCKEFELLER JR.

Still for an Open Shop, Says John D.'s Son, Returning From Colorado.

John D. Rockefeller Jr. was considerably surprised on his arrival in New York to-day from a visit of a month to the properties of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company to learn that his father was reported to have presented him with $24,000,000 worth of the stock of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company in order that he might be free to work out his own ideas of industrial reforms.

"If my father has given me $24,000,000 in stock of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company," said young Mr. Rockefeller, "he has kept me in ignorance of the transaction, and I have no reason to believe that anything of the sort has occurred. In the first place, the Rockefeller interest in the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company amounts to only 40 per cent. of the stock, and I couldn't control the property no matter what my inclinations might be."

Mr. Rockefeller reached New York from Chicago on the Broadway Limited of the Pennsylvania line. He carried packages in his arms and his pockets as he walked from the train to a taxi and might have been mistaken, with his bronzed skin and wrinkled attire, for a commuter coming in to town with a lot of garden truck for friends.

Mr. Rockefeller had nothing to add to the plan he submitted to the miners of Colorado looking to the establishment of better relations between the mining companies and the unions. He said frankly that he did not believe in the closed shop principle.

"I have no objection to unions," he said. "I see no reason why a man should not belong to a union. But I can see no reason why a man who doesn't belong to a union hasn't the same right to honest employment as the union man."

"I found conditions in Colorado in the properties of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company might be good. I was out there a month and lived in the company of several newspaper reporters, who kept tabs on everything I did. From what I have seen of the papers my movements have been pretty well looked after.

"As I have said, our family owns only an interest in the Colorado mines and I have always been the representative of our holdings out there. Anything my father and I have done was for the benefit of the company and the employees."

"We have been held responsible for many mines, but we only had an interest in the mines of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. Frequently somebody finds something the matter out there, points it out, and says 'How about that?' My answer has been that conditions may be bad, but that we haven't any control over them."

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK; HER CREW IS SAVED

The Halizones, 5,093 Tons, Sent to Bottom by German Submarine.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The British steamship Halizones, 5,093 tons, running in the South American trade, was sunk by a German submarine to-day.

The crew was saved.

TRULLEBERG, Sweden, Oct. 12 (via London).—The crew of thirty-four men of the Hamburg collier Gutruene, which was torpedoed yesterday off Meland, has been landed here.

A despatch from Copenhagen last night said that a German coal steamer had been sunk in Almar Sound, Sweden, by a submarine, presumably British. The foregoing apparently alludes to this incident.

The Gutruene probably is the Hamburg-American Line steamer of that name which before the war was engaged in the South American service. She was built in 1906, and her tonnage was 3,690.

SWISS TROOPS SEIZE ENVOYS

But Apology Follows to French Ambassador and British Minister.

GENEVA, Oct. 12 (via Paris).—Swiss soldiers yesterday arrested the French Ambassador and British Minister while they were riding in an automobile near Neuchâtel. The mistake was soon discovered and an apology was made by the Federal authorities.

ALLIED AIR FLEET RAIDS THE GERMAN BASE AT GHENT

Hangars on Aviation Grounds and Their Contents Reported Destroyed.

THRILLING AIR BATTLE.

French Machine in Combat With German as Land Battle Rages in Champagne.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 12.—All German hangars and their contents on the Ghent aviation grounds have been destroyed by an allied aeroplane raid, according to the Echo Belge to-day.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—A battle between a French aeroplane carrying a 100-litre bomb and a 2-1/2 C. 200-litre engine German plane was one of the incidents of the battle in the Champagne when the allied offensive was at its height. The French machine had just set out to destroy a line of railroad back of the German lines when the German craft emerged from a cloud.

The air battle began immediately. Almost as soon as it started the machine gun on the French aeroplane jammed.

"Dive! Dive!" shouted the observer to the pilot.

The machine plunged in a swift curve, but the German, no less prompt, dove too and continued to fly around the French machine, which was hampered by the weight of the bombs it carried. After firing his carbine until his supply of cartridges was exhausted it occurred to the French observer that an abrupt landing would be fatal to him and to his pilot unless the fuses were moved from the bombs. He coolly set taking out the fuses, and had just finished the task when a bullet struck him in the back and a moment later another shattered one wrist.

The pilot was hit in the eye by a piece of the propeller, which had been knocked off by a bullet. Again he was wounded in the abdomen and fainted. Then the observer seized the levers and guided the machine into the trenches.

Both the observer and pilot have survived their wounds, and the names of both have been proposed for the Legion of Honor.

Zeppelin Flies Over Serbia to Bulgarian Capital.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—German airmen have flown by Zeppelin across Serbia from Austria to Sofia, Bulgaria, where Czar Ferdinand banqueted them and toasts were drunk to the Kaiser, according to a Salonica despatch.

Mrs. Galt Denies a Silly Story.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—"Of course, it's not true," said Mrs. Norman Galt to-day when told that a La Crosse, Wis., newspaper had taken an extra on the street announcing that she and the President already were married.

The date of the President's marriage will be announced, as is customary, in due time, was the only intimation regarding the event from the White House to-day.

BULGAR INVASION HALTED, DRIVE OF TEUTONS CHECKED AT BELGRADE, SERBS CLAIM

Nish Makes the Report That the Austro-Germans Were Repulsed in a Three-Day Battle and Forced Back to the Danube.

50,000 SHELLS FIRED INTO THE SERBIAN CITY

OFFICIAL GERMAN REPORT.

BERLIN, via London, Oct. 12.—It was announced at the War Office to-day that the "Austro-German forward movement over the whole Serbian front is making good progress."

The official statement said that both the town and fortress of Semendria were captured yesterday.

[Semendria is on the Danube River at the mouth of the Morava, and is at the head of the valley between the Morava and the Malava. According to the report issued at Nish Sunday night the Serbs had taken the offensive in this valley.]

[With the taking of Semendria, both terminal of the strategic railroad through Nish to Sofia and on to Constantinople are now in Teutonic hands. It is twenty-five miles east of Belgrade, the other terminal point.]

OFFICIAL SERBIAN REPORT.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—A Serbian official statement issued at Nish Sunday night covering operations on the Danube front is as follows:

"There were desperate combats for the positions south of Ram, where we repulsed all enemy attacks. Our troops took the offensive between Malava and the Morava River, throwing the enemy back upon the bank of the Danube and capturing three mortars and four machine guns."

"Continued passage of the river between Semendria and Godomins by the enemy was prevented. One detachment that had crossed near Semendria was annihilated in part by our fire and the rest of the troops were driven into the stream."

"At Belgrade, following a heavy cannonading, the enemy tried to take by assault Great Vatchar and Dedigne, but was thrown back with heavy losses before Great Vatchar and driven out of Dedigne by a counter attack after having lost a considerable part of his force."

"The enemy continued unsuccessful efforts to take our positions toward Seabrezre and Krtnsky. We repulsed other attacks at Machva toward Obrenovatz and at Bitua."

"On the Drina front several detachments of Austro-Germans crossed the river between Tsara Betra and Padovintze but were unable to advance. We hold our positions."

French and British Gunners Aid Serbians in Big Battle

PARIS, Oct. 12.—Three days' desperate fighting between Austro-Germans and Serbians about Belgrade had occurred up to Sunday night, according to a Nish despatch to the Matin to-day.

It was admitted the invaders were advancing steadily despite the Serbians' murderous fire from the hills which overlook the town's path on both sides. At the time the despatch was filed it was said a Serbian advantage had been gained at one point, the Austro-Germans being thrown back on a Belgrade suburb called Great Vatchar, where a fierce fight was progressing.

British and French gunners, who helped the Serbians, were reported to have damaged the Teutonic forces heavily. They also sank two Austrian monitors in the Danube.
